CONTAMINATED WATER MAY CAUSE BLACKSHANK

Contaminated water may be a source of blackshank.

R. B. Hudgins, county agent, says tobacco growers who water plant beds with water that has drained from a blackshank - contaminated field are taking a chance on introducing the disease. The contamination may originate many miles upstream on another farm. If drainage water flows across a contaminated field and enters into a stream or pond used for watering plant beds, or for transplanting, you are almost certain to have blackshank in your plant bed.It will later spread through out the various fields set from these plants.

Hudgins also warned that bringing in tobacco plants from blackshank-infested areas is another way of introducing the disease.

Ball accord plan is accepted by carriers.

Honor Dead, But Don't Join Them

Richmond, Va., May 28.- As the long Memorial Day week-end approached, Colonel C. W. Woodson, Jr., Superintendent of State Police and Executive Chairman of the Governor's Highway Safety Committee, reminded the public that the holiday is one for honoring the dead, not for joining them through the senseless medium of a traffic crash.

Colonel Woodson called attention to the fact that last Memorial Day alone, falling on Wednesday, saw five traffic deaths. "We cannot predict how many will die during the three-day holiday," he said. "Too much depends on chance and such factors as how many are riding in automobiles involved in crashes or that thin line of demarcation between a fatal and a near-fatal accident. However, normal traffic volumes are about nine per cent above those of last year and the holiday falling on a Friday will be certain to send hurrying throngs to the highways with the most dangerous potentialities."

Citing the most obvious dangers against which to guard, Col. Woodson gave hurrying to shorten traveling time and squeeze every minute possible out of the time to be spent at destinations as perhaps the most fatal. Driving while exhausted, driving while drinking and not making every allowance for increased traffic and drivers operating under the stated conditions follow closely, he said. "Have your car checked mechanically, start early so you won't be tempted to hurry, don't touch the wheel after drinking, don't wait until the last minute, when you're tired and sleepy, before starting home, be aware every driving minute of the increased hazards and your chances for an accident-free trip will be good," was his advice.

He remarked also that Memorial Day is the beginning of the vacation season and that deaths can be expected to rise sharply during the summer months. Vacationists, he continued, should follow substantially the same rules given for those driving on week-end holidays.

Mass Chest X-ray In June

It's great to be healthy—and great to know it! That's why thousands of families today are having their chests X-rayed. Fathers and mothers want to be sure that they are not endangering the future health and happiness of their children. They also want to know that their children are perfectly healthy, and that infection does not threaten them.

You're doing a favor to yourself, your family, and your community when you have your chest checked. Feel good by knowing that your health is good! Make a date to have your chest X-rayed.

At a meeting last Thursday with Dr. Le Clere, Health Officer of Appomattox, Buckingham, and Cumberland counties, presiding, the following schedule was set up for a mass X-ray of the citizens of Appomattox county:

Appomattox, Lee Theatre, June 20 and 23, 9:30 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Pamplin, Masonic Hall, June 24 9:00 a. m. to 5:00 p. m.

Cpl. Sale Earns Bronze Star

With the 7th Infantry Div. in Korea (Special to Times-Virginian) An Appomattox, Va. infantryman who helped evacuate three wounded soldiers while under heavy fire in Korea has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for valor.

Cpl. Charles E. Sale, of Route 3, a member of the 17th Infantry's Company C, distinguished himself on Nov. 24, 1951, while on patrol near Huhang-gol.

After suffering five casualties in a savage fire fight, Sale's patrol withdrew before a numerically superior Communist force. When the patrol reorganized, it was discovered that three casualties had been left behind. Sale immediately volunteered to accompany a squad sent to rescue the wounded men. Upon reaching the area, Sale repeatedly exposed himself to the heavy fire to help find and assist in evacuating the three men. The citation reads in part:

"The undaunted courage of Corporal Sale was primarily responsible for saving the lives of his wounded comrades."

AHS FINALS NEXT WEEK

The graduation program for the Class of 1952 at Appomattox High School will get under way Sunday night with the preaching of the Baccalaureate Sermon. The Rev. Herbert N. Tucker, minister-in-charge at St. Ann's Episcopal Church will preach the sermon, in the auditorium of Liberty Baptist Church.

Annual Class Night exercises are scheduled for Wednesday night of next week. On Friday night, June 6, Congressman W. M. Abbitt will be the commencement speaker as diplomas are awarded the 58 graduates by Principal H. E. Kerr.

French Communist leader is arrested in Paris riots.

W. M. Abbitt Renominated For 3rd Term

Petersburg, May 28.- Representative Watkins M. Abbitt, of Appomattox was renominated for a third term in Congress at the Fourth District's Democratic convention here last Saturday.

More than 400 delegates from the 18 counties and 3 cities making up the new Fourth District renominated the former Commonwealth's Attorney of Appomattox by acclimation. His nomination was put before the convention by State Senator Charles T. Moses and 20 seconding speeches from each of the 20 other political units in the district followed. Abbitt so far is unopposed in the November general election.

In his acceptance speech, Abbitt promised to defend the cause of democracy and to work constantly for economy in government and the eradication of "socialistic tendency now being fostered by certain elements of government." He called for a united effort in behalf of Fourth District Democrats to support him in his efforts in behalf of the farmer. He declared that as far as he is concerned "there is no more new or old territory in our district." He welcomed the addition of Suffolk and the counties of Nansemond, Isle of Wight and Southampton, which will make the Fourth the largest geographical district in Virginia. These four units were taken from the old Second District as a result of the 1950 redistricting act which becomes effective June 26th.

The principal address was made by U. S. Senator A. Willis Robertson. He praised Abbitt's record and called upon Democrats to stand together "in this time of trial" and urged continued support of Virginia's team in Congress.

The convention lasted more than two and a half hours but its business was quickly taken up and the delegates were seated with no difficulty by the Credentials Committee. As the session opened, W. Emory Elmore of Brunswick County, Fourth District Committee Chairman, called the session to order. Delegate W. Roy Smith of Petersburg welcomed the delegates in behalf of the host city. State Senator Garland Gray of Waverly was named chairman of the convention. He appointed committees to handle details of the session, the chairmen of which were State Senator George Palmer, of Green Bay, permanent organization; State Senator Albertis S. Harrison, Jr., of Lawrenceville, resolutions; State Senator A. E. S. Stephens, of Isle of Wight, credentials; and R. F. B. Steele, of Petersburg, nominations.

The convention was the first held by the Fourth District for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Congress in this century. It was made necessary because of the addition of the area from the old Second District and political leaders within the Fourth felt a primary would not stand a legal test. Abbitt, 44 year-old attorney, has been serving in Congress since February 17, 1948, when he was named over two opponents in a special election to succeed the late Patrick H. Drewry, of Petersburg. He was reelected without opposition in 1948 and 1950. He served as Commonwealth's Attorney of Appomattox County from 1932 to 1948 and has been active in party affairs for the past 20 years.
